Chairman Metz discussed the update from Commissioners Pettibone and Short (Hall of Fame subcommittee) regarding the roster of candidates for recognition by the Commission. Commissioner Short shared his discussions with the people of Owens Valley and the Eastern Sierra regarding assistance from the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, a public/private partnership for a new waterway project, consisting of 60 miles of lakes near Highway 395 between Bishop and Lone Pine. This region has millions of travelers with no boating facilities or waterway access. Commissioner Short will continue the discussion at the next Commission meeting scheduled for November 6, 2014.

Commissioner Madueno expressed interest in looking at potential future projects that increase economic development opportunities and tourism: canoe launch at the Port of Stockton, a partnership between the Port of Stockton, the City of Stockton, and other agencies; a potential project site on the west end of Stanislaus County which would tie in the San Joaquin River with the Federal Bureau of Reclamation involving the City of Patterson, Stanislaus County and the City of Modesto; and finally discussions with the City of Mendota over the west end of Fresno County, putting together a master plan proposal to DBW by next year.

Drought-related issues will have a huge impact on waterways throughout the state, such as an increase in the infestation of aquatic weeds and quagga mussels and decreased water levels in our reservoirs and lakes, affecting our constituents' ability to boat safely.

ADVICE AND COMMENT REGARDING CHANGES IN REGULATIONS

Aquatic Invasive Species Program Manager, Edward Hard gave a brief update regarding the adoption of the Quagga Zebra Grant Program. DBW is currently developing permanent regulations for the Quagga Zebra Infestation Prevention Program to replace the existing emergency regulations.

In addition, Aquatic Invasive Species Program Manager, Edward Hard, provided an update to the Commission on the progress of controlling invasive aquatic plant species in the Delta. As of August 13, 2014, Division of Boating and Waterways (DBW) staff has treated over 100 sites for water hyacinth within 61,000 acres in the Delta. Of the 100 sites, 274 treatments were made which is equivalent to a little over 2000 acres. Mr. Hard showed maps of Egeria densa and water hyacinth treatment areas. In particular, heavy infestations of water hyacinth have been observed this year, particularly in the Central and South Delta, which could be attributed to drought, higher temperatures, tidal flows, and other factors.

DBW has been working with stakeholders on an area-wide effort in managing aquatic weeds in the Delta. The area-wide project is being led by DBW's federal nexus partner, U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service. The objective is to develop and implement both short and long-term approaches in controlling invasive aquatic plants. This includes exploring other control measures such as mechanical, biological, physical and possible use of biopesticides.

DBW is also working with California Department of Fish and Wildlife in conducting risk assessments of other invasive aquatic plants that are now starting to establish in the Delta. These plants include, but are limited to the following: Fanwort, Coontail, Curly-Leaf Pondweed, Watermilfoil and Water Primrose. Overall, DBW will continue to monitor and utilize appropriate control measures in suppressing invasive aquatic plants.

Recommendation from Chairman Metz to defer as an agenda item until such time as the public comment period for the regulatory process has closed and staff has had an opportunity to analyze all public comments received.

Chairman Metz commented that this was an excellent presentation.
